Preventive medicine helps to keep your cat healthier, prevent disease, and detect illness earlier for best treatment.

Wellness Plans assist you in helping your pets live a healthy life while you financially manage the costs associated with their care.

Our Exam and Consultations include a thorough nose to tail examination and time for discussion with the veterinarian

Vaccinations protect against harmful, and even fatal, infectious diseases. Vaccines are based on the lifestyle of your dog and our plans cover the most common vaccines. Other vaccinations may be required that are not included in the plan.

Fecal tests check for the presences of internal parasites including roundworms, hookworms, tapeworms, whipworms, and Giardia.

Blood tests are essential tools for identifying diseases as early as possible, when they are most treatable. Your cat could appear healthy but still have underlying health problems.

Bi-monthly and seasonal prevention products help protect your cat from fleas, ticks, and internal parasites.

You can also choose to incorporate routine dental care as part of your Wellness Plan. Dental care for cats is important to their overall health. Please see our Oral Health Care Plan.
